Notes to the reader:

Remuneration includes all forms of salary, wages, and taxable benefits paid to an employee during the year. Remuneration can differ from total salary because while an employee may earn wages, those wages may not be paid until a different financial period.

Employee expenses defined in the Financial Information Regulation includes travel expenses, memberships, tuition, relocation, vehicle leases, extraordinary hiring expenses, and registration fees and similar amounts which has not been included in the definition of remuneration.

Statement of Financial Information

Statement of Reconciliation to Financial Statements Disclosure:

The remuneration schedule is prepared on a cash paid basis for employee related compensation; the Financial Statements are prepared on an accrual accounting basis, and include employer related costs for employment agreements and payroll related obligations.

Statement of Financial Information
